

MnIPS hosts Networking for IT Professionals A Two-part series

Already restructured, downsized, right-sized IT Professionals, as well as those concerned about their future, can learn how to improve their networking skills by attending the Networking for IT Professionals seminar. Hosted by the Minnesota Information Professional Society (MnIPS), this event will showcase IT staffing professionals and networking experts that will share their tips and techniques on how to network to find a job or to stay current with events and technology.

As an added feature, attendees are invited to attend the monthly MnIPS meeting that immediately follows the Networking seminar at a reduced cost. Practice your networking skills and improve your network then hear Anita Cassidy's presentation on 'Planning for E-Business Success'.

Featured guest speakers include:

- Matt Noah of NetSuds – Networking in Groups
- Michael Simons of Smilin' & Dialin' – Making the most of Personal Contacts
- Bill McTeer of McTeer Systems – Networking 1 on 1 with other IT professionals
- Jeanine Phillips of RHI Consulting – Preparing for an Interview
- Joe Perzel of eNRGi – the Best Places to Network and meeting moderator
